THE EVENING CRITIC.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Theatres. The pleasant change in the weather of last evening had a marked effect upon the theatres, the attendance at both being very fine and the performances fairly excellent. Next week the peerless beauty, Mary Anderson, appears at the National Theatre with a aplendid support. At Ford's Opera-house "Our Geblins—A Story of the Rhine," will be produced.

earnest attention of Congress, and that unless some action be had in its behalf it must soon dwindle into insignificance. From such a state it would be difficult to revive it into efficiency without dangerous delay and enormous oxpense. Emergencies may at any moment arise which would render its aid irdispensable to the protection of the lives and property of our citizens abroad and at home, and even to our existence as a nation.

"These things ought not to be. While the navy should not be large, it should at all times afford a nucleus for its enlargement upon an emergency. Its power of prompt and extended expansion should be established. It should be sufficiently powerful to assure the navigator that in whatsoever sea he thail still his ship he is protected by the stars and stripes of his country." Secretary Hunt refer, to the recommendations of the Navial Advisory Board in this connection, and carnestly recommends their report, which is made a part of his, to the attention of Congress. He also reviews the work performed in the Arctic especiation, the work of the different squadrons and the operations of the various departments of the navy. He thinks the estinate of tengus for the Ordinance Department should meet with favorable consideration. Secretary Hunt also devotes a chapter to workmen in navy-yards and stations are often expessed, in the discharge of their duty, to anusual perils. "This matter is put with simplicity and force in a report of the present chief of the Bureau of Steam Engineering, under date October 30, 1878:

"It matters not how long or how faithfully they may have served the Government, nor how hazardous their duty or calling; an arm or leg is broken, an eye is lost, a hand is crushed, or, perhaps, instant death overtakes the laborer, and he is borne to his home by his fellowworkmen. He fails to answer at the next roll-call; his name is first checked, and then stricken from it altogether. " "That is the last of him and his family, so far as the Government is concerned."

The Secretary also recommends the passage of the act allowing the proceeds of the sale of decayed hulls and uncloss materials to be devoted to the construction of new vetsels; also, that Capt. W. D. Whiting, late chief of the Bureau of Navigation, be placed on the list of retired officers with the rank of commodore.

The Christianey Case.

Charles Goodman, one of the missing witnesses for the defeense in the Christiancy divorce suit, appeared yesterday about as suddenly as he went out of sight some weeks slice. At the session last night he resumed his cross-examination, and stated that when he left the hearing on the Saturday at the time he was being examined he fully expected to return next. Monday and complete his testimony, but that urgent and important busines a necessial ed his immediate presence is New York and he we at there. On his direct examination he said that he was a painter, doing odd jobs whenever they could be captured; now he claims to be a potato speculator. Since he left here he has been to North Point, L. I., where he remained nine days and stayed at Soper's Hotel. He then went to Hicksville and put up at the Union Hotel. Neither hotel was provided with a register and he was not called upon to give or record his name. He said that he had been in New York only two days since he left here. He saw Detective Beach, the person who furnished him the round trip ticket to come hace the first time, and he advised the withces to return.

Hence, Mr. Dawson's friends urge his election as Sorgeani-at-Arms, not merely on the ground of geographical claims, but also upon his own merita as an active and able supporter of the Republican party."

THE FAIR SEASON. Successful Opening of Grace Church Fair Last Night.

Pair Last Night.

The fair for the benefit of Grace P. E. Church, South Washington, opened auspiciously at Odd-Fellows' Hall, Seventh street, last night. The attendance was large and liberal, and the arrangements carried out in a highly satisfactory manner. The display of fancy articles for sale was unusually fine and included just such articles as would be most acceptable as Christmas gifts. Regular market prices prevailed and the visitors were left free to examine them without being importuned to buy.

A Brilliant Wedding.

A Brilliant Wedding.

A beautiful wedding occurred yesterday afternoon at the remote little old Rock Creek Church, in the county, the parties of the first part being Miss Mida Wilmot Massey, and Mr. Charles H. Wiltberger, jr., of Boston. The brother of the bride gave her away, and the rector, Rev. James A. Buck, performed the ceremony according to the solemn but beautiful liturgy of the Episcopalian Church. Mr. Henry Sampson, of Boston, acad as best man for the groom, and the ushers were Messrs. W. A. Galt, Irving Brooke, and Henry C. Towers, of this city, and Mr. F. H. M. McDonald, of Baltimore.

The bride was attired in a handsome walking costume of garnet plush and satin, and immediately after the ceremony the newly-wedded pair left the city on an extended Northern tour.

The Life Saving Service.

The Life Saving Service.

The annual report of the Superintendent of the Life Saving Service shows that the number of casualties on the Atlantic coast within the scope of the service was 151, on the lakes 94, and on the Pacific coast five. On board the vessels wrecked were 1,880 persons, of whom 1,854 were saved and 26 lost. The number brought ashore by lifelost. The number brought ashore by lifesaving appliances was 408, and succer was afforded to 407 at the various stations. One hundred and seventy-eight vessels were helped by the life-saving crews to get off when stranded, and were piloted to places of safety. The general superintendent of the service recommends the establishment of additional stations at a number of points on the Atlantic coast and the lakes, and on the Atlantic coast and the lakes,

During November 721 boats, carrying 81,-537 tons of coal and 117 tons of merchandisc, cleared from this port on the canal. The revenue for the mouth was over $44,000. This was the heaviest mouth's shipments of the year. The shipments are now brisk and the canal will be kept open as long as possible. The shipments so far this year are over 190,000 tons, and this will probably be increased over 30,000 tons before the season closes.

The Pleasant Sociable of the Man-Some Horse-sense About Guiteau.

The Pleasant Sociable of the Manchon Club.

St. Joseph's Hall was crowded last night, the occasion being the third complimentary sociable of that ever-popular organization, it the Manchon Club. The hall was beantifully decorated, and pressented an appearance seldom seen in this or any other city. A set of colors used at the St. Aloysius' fair was displayed, and attacted great attention. Dancing began at about 8 o'clock, and continued until the early hours of the morning. Among these appears were noticed Misses Sharkey, Kennedy, Holloran, Norton, Nichols, Tanner, Moore, Callahan, Brosnan, Comnell, Soleau, Towers, Jones, Proctor, Maguire and Hussey, and Messrs, Yates, John and Lincoln Eshelman, Hogan, and Milliken, Prott, Amos, Will on and Craerin, Mr. Wm. L. Soleau acted as master of ceremonies, with Messrs, E. K. Lynch and M. F. Brosnan as assistants. These gentlement acquitted themselves very handsomely. There were a number of representatives of other social clubs of the city present, into the fairly of the Capitol Pleasure Club.

Everybody voted the ball a grand success, and longed for a repetition of it.

A Good UlsterFor 86.50.

L. Hamburger & Sons, 615 Penns, are not. When he is once made to understand that the editorial boot or the artistic fist awaits his next appearance at the office, he appears no more. Guiteau is simply a crank, such as we see here every week. He is no maniae. He knows very well what he is doing. He tells us that the Lord commissioned him to shoot President Garfield. He knows very well that the Lord would never have commissioned him to shoot a man who could draw as quickly as he could. The man who is sane enough to cower before the popular fary is sane enough to hang for the commission of a cruel and dastardly crime. If any cheap sentiment clears this worst of nurderers from the gallows, it is to be hoped that the undisciplined and law-despising public which will take care of the murderer will also have an eye to the jury which acquits him. We do not believe in lynch law; but if we did, we should send thirteen pieces of hemp to Washington the day Guiteau is acquitted.

MARY ANDERSON appears Monday, De-cember 5, and during the week. It is difficult to say anything of this truly gifted young lady that has not already been
